

"Our immediate impression of Wearing The Hat was friendly, professional and interested in our business.

Wearing The Hat effectively identified the relevant issues to be addressed, developed a suitable understanding of our products, and communicated effectively during the project.

Wearing The Hat provided us with a new and improved Sales Process that has helped turn around our approach to Sales. This has had a big impact on the ongoing viability of our business. The engagement also helped prioritise installation of a CRM system which has also made a massive difference on the effectiveness of our client liaisons.

We will always be thankful to Wearing the Hat for helping us.

Wearing the Hat's Consultancy has been fantastic, it has helped us open up discussions and injected creativity and positivity into certain projects which has been key in progressing them.

This has definitely improved our immediate sales and helped open new opportunities. The engagement has provided us the tools to continue to undertake new Sales and Marketing campaigns

We would use the services of Wearing The Hat again, and would recommend them to others."

Symon Squires, Director, Contigo