

Corporate and Brand Identity

Whether a brand new brand for a brand new company or product, or tweaking an existing identity, Wearing The Hat will deliver for you a corporate or brand identity which appeals to your target audience.

A corporate identity operates at a subconscious level building trust and confidence in your company, products, services and staff.

Wearing The Hat's corporate and brand identity development can extend beyond logos and slogans to also include the design of your corporate stationery - business cards, letterheads, and email signatures.

Please send us your enquiry for a no obligation discussion about your requirements.